One of the Strip's newest sports-viewing venues is also one of the coolest, with its centerpiece being a massive, wall-to-wall screen. Add in shareable bites like lobster rolls, pigs in a blanket and a giant soft pretzel and you'll be staying long after the game is over.

September 2

Multiple Locations

Forget spring. Fall is brunch season in Las Vegas with some of our favorite restaurants debuting new options this month. Flanker Kitchen + Sports Bar is unveiling a Game Day Brunch during football games (starting Sept. 2 and Sept. 10), opening early at 9 am with smoked salmon lox flatbreads, caviar lobster rolls, beer towers, a Bloody Mary cart, and more. Tailgate Social is also debuting brunch the same day (running Saturdays and Sundays 9am-3 pm) with chicken and waffles, breakfast burritos, mimosas, and other classics. The newly opened 1228 Main is now introducing brunch (Saturdays-Sundays 8am-4 pm) with fun dishes like a breakfast sando with griddled eggs, Runisian Shakshuka (red pepper stew), and some of the best fresh-baked bread and pastries in Vegas. Casa Playa at the Wynn now has "Brunch Mexicano," featuring masa pancakes, made-to-order tacos, and other dishes with south-of-the-border inspiration for $34.99 per person (Saturday-Sunday 10:30 am-1:30 pm). Meanwhile, Diane Mina's Bloody Mary Blues Brunch is going strong at The Sundry (Saturday-Sunday 11 am-3 pm) with various bites and Bloody Mary variations made with a delicious farm-fresh mix. Don't leave without trying the blue crabcakes and oyster shooters.
